Vienna, November 4.

TH E Swedes give out here, that they have Letters from Adrianople of the 7th of October, and from Walachia of the 10th and 14th of that Month, which agree that there has been another great Change in the Turkish Court with respect to the Peace with the Czar. On this Subject they have dispersed an Extract of a Letter from Adrianople, viz. 'The Peace for 5 Months concluded with the Muscovites, is almost come to nothing. When the Czar's Minister was on his Departure, the Sultan caused him to be asked by the Effendi, where were the Letters of Guarantie and Assurance of the stipulated Peace, and particularly of the Tribute which the Czar is henceforward to pay to the Cham: The Muscovite Minister appeared much surpris'd at this Question, and could only say, that these Pretensions were not expressed in the Treaty. The Effendi answered that such things needed not to be expressed in the Treaty, as sufficiently speaking themselves; that this Point of the Tribute was one of the chiefest of those which were debated in the Negotiation, and that the Muscovite Ministers not having guarded against it in the Treaty, it remained intire. Thereupon the Muscovite Minister put off his Departure, and was afterwards ordered to repair to Constantinople. In Consequence of this, an Aga was sent to order the Ottoman Troops to march back to Chocim with the heavy Artillery. A great Sum of Money is likewise sent that Way, for the Cham and for Ali-Bashaw to continue the Preparations of War. It has likewise been signified to M. Comman-towski Envoy of the Republick of Poland, that he must not stir from hence before the Republick is united under one Head, and that then the Sultan will give him Audience on his producing full Powers from the united Republick. To this the Swedes add, that their King continues in the Neighbourhood of Adrianople; that the Effendi had made him a new offer of Money; to which his Majesty answered, that all the Money he had yet received, had been expended to no purpose, by reason of the Inconstancy of the Turks; and that the King of France had offered to convey him by Sea to his own Dominions, in which Case he should have no need of Money: And this Frankness was so well taken by the Sultan, that he seemed to espouse his Swedish Majesty's Interests more warmly than ever, &c. But all this News must be well confirmed before it deserve Credit; the rather because our Court have no Letters of a fresh Date from Turkey.

From the Amsterdam Gazette, dated Nov. 17.

Amboury, Nov. 9. Last Week the Prince of Lewestein, the Emperour's principal Commissioner, invited most of the Envoys, especially from the Princes, to his House. He earnestly exhorted them, in the Name of the Emperour, to procure from the Princes their Masters necessary Instructions for coming to proper Resolutions on the Imperial Decree of the 16th of October last; representing to them, that the only Means to oblige France to make Peace, was to continue the War with more Vigour: To which the Envoys answered, that he might assure his Imperial Majesty that the Princes their Masters were resolv'd to exert all their Strength, to second, as much as is in their Power, his good Design. 'Tis said, that besides the four Millions formerly granted, the Diet will give five Millions more for carrying on the War; and as the Assembly of the States of the associated Circles held at Heilbron, have agreed to conform themselves to what shall be determined by the Diet of the Empire, 'tis not doubted the Result will be agreeable to his Imperial Majesty's Intentions. 'Tis not known yet how the Winter-Quarters are regulated; 'tis only said that 10 Regiments of Imperialists will have their Quarters in Bavaria.

Hague, Nov. 17. 'We expect here with great Impatience the Return of an Express which M. Le Begue has sent to the Court of Lorrain, with the Representation of the Lord Bishop of London touching the Removal of the Pretender out of the Dominions of his Royal Highness. Nor are we less curious to know whether the like Representations have been made to the foreign Ministers who reside at London, their Letters of the 14th of this Month not being yet arrived; and their former not having made any Mention of it, that we can yet learn. In the mean while 'tis said the like Declaration has been made to the Magistrates of the City of Hamburg.

Letters from Utrecht advise, that an Express from the Court of Madrid arriving there the 14th, there was hardly any Doubt of a speedy Conclusion of the Peace between Spain and this State, unless the Elector of Bavaria should traverse it by new Difficulties; which he may perhaps find a Pretence to do, the Order which the said Express has brought to the Plenipotentiaries of Spain, injoyning them to desist from the demanded Guarantie of the Sovereignty to be erected for the Prince of Ursini, and to acquiesce in the Proposition which the States formerly made to fix that Sovereignty to the County of Chinay, but yet upon Condition that the said Elector be content therewith and be indemnified otherwise.

As for the Treaty of Commerce between Great-Britain and Spain, we know that for several Days past Clerks have been employed in ingrossing it fair; and the Instruments being at present ready for receiving the Seals, we have no other Notion here than that it may be signed to Morrow by both Parties.

We learn that the Passports are at length issued, which were so pressingly asked for of the Court of France, for the changing of the Garrison of Trarbach, and for the safe Conveyance of the necessary Convoys for putting that Place into a Condition of Defence: And as those Passports extend to the 20th Instant, 'tis reckoned there may be time enough for providing the Place with Ammunition and Victuals for several Months.

Letters from Berlin of the 11th Instant relate, That Count Fleming having had a Conference with the Ministers of that Court, was set out for Warlaw, in Order to make Report there to the King his Master of what he has in Charge from his Prussian Majesty, and to bring back the Resolution of the King of Poland: That for this End, the King of Prussia had suspended the March of his Troops against the Danes in Holstein three Weeks; in which time 'twas reckoned his Majesty might not only be informed of the Determination of the King of Denmark on the Expedients proposed, but likewise of the Sentiments of the Czar touching what has been transacted without his Participation and to the Prejudice of his Allies.
